Privacy Statement:

Bad Apps Development business model is to develop products and services that people find value in. We will not sell, distribute, talk about or publicly indicate anyone's personal information-ever. Any Personal information provided to authorities will be done so under court order and never voluntarily just handed over.

Billing:

Here at Bad Apps Development we are open about our work and fees before we start a new project. As such, we need to be paid in full within 14 days of you receiving a bill or within 24 hours of a recurring charge such as website hosting, server instances or any other recurring charge.

Scope of Work:

Before work can begins, a mutually agreed Scope of Work & payment will be agreed to and signed by both parties. While surprises do happen, a clear scope of work can help limit the number of events and minimize their complexity and provide an avenue for a positive outcome. For more on the Scope of Work from click here.
